

BOOK WEEK AT REPTON

Sophie Mason
Head of English

Book Week is an annual celebration in many schools around the world aimed at promoting reading and literacy among pupils. During this week, we organised various activities to engage and excite them about books. Some of the popular events included the fancy dress competition, the House door decoration contest, and a Book Fair.

Chloe Gleave
Literacy Coordinator

Repton also invited an author to visit and speak to pupils, giving them an opportunity to learn about the writing process and ask questions. In addition, pupils have been encouraged to read to each other, helping to build their confidence and improve their reading skills. Overall, Book Week has been a wonderful way to celebrate the joy of reading and inspire a lifelong love of books.

ONE OF THE TEAM

Arnaud Germain
Head of Pastoral
Teacher of French

Hobbies: As I cannot play football as much as before, I like coaching. I play table tennis and volleyball too. Photography is a big hobby; I specialise in Wildlife Photography, both under and above water! Finally, scuba diving. I have logged close to 800 dives in many parts of the world.

Interests: I like reading biographies, travel journals and scientific books about nature. I always start and finish the day with reading the news. I like to watch a wide range of films. I enjoy listening to music, especially heavy metal. Travelling with my family.

Guilty Pleasure: French cheese has to be number one.

REPTON FAMILY

Congratulations to Repton School Dubai for hosting a TEDx event on their campus. A variety of guests and pupils of different ages took part, giving mature and inspiring speeches to the crowd below. A wide range of topics were covered, including climate change, animal endangerment and the future of AI.
